BISMARCK'S AFFLICTION.

The Iron Chancellor's Life Partner Removed by Death.

THE PRINCE QUITE OVERCOME.

Owing to His Weakened Condition the Funeral Ceremonies Will be on a Modest Scale—The Princess Will Probably be Buried at Schonhausen.

BERLIN, Nov. 28.—Princess Bismarck, wife of Prince Bismarck, died at Varzin yesterday, aged 70 years. Her condition became alarming Monday afternoon. All the family were hastily summoned to her bedside. Count Herbert Bismarck arrived last evening and was present when his mother died. Although it is feared that the effect of his wife's death upon the prince will be serious, it is given out that he has been in better health lately and has been able to resume his daily drives.

The princess had been in poor health for a long time, but her illness became pronounced two months ago. She was deeply affected by the death of her life long friend, Frau Eugenie Reckow, prioress of the Stolp institute for unmarried women. Three weeks ago Dr. Schweninger was called to Friedrichruhe to prescribe for a serious attack of neuralgia. Since that time she has been almost continually under the care of a physician.

Princess Bismarck had for years been a sufferer with a bronchial trouble and gastric catarrh. Eighteen months ago she was found lying in a pool of blood at the foot of her bed. These fainting attacks were repeated from time to time. The immediate cause of the death was dropsy, complicated with heart disease. The disease rapidly became worse during the last few days. The princess was cheerful to the end. She tried to deceive her husband as to her real condition, and spent much of her time out of bead.

Dr. Schweninger and Dr. Chrysander regarded her case as hopeless a month ago, but concealed the truth from Prince Bismarck. Dr. Schweninger has been here since Friday, but he was unable to do anything beyond attending to the comfort of the dying princess.

The prince is quite overcome by the death of his wife. He is so completely broken down that the doctors insist upon his speedy removal to Friedrichsruhe. He had watched by her bedside until 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Shortly before 6 o'clock Dr. Schweninger gently broke the news to Prince Bismarck who rose immediately and remained silent for some time at the death bed. At the death scene there were present Dr Schweninger, Dr. Chrysander, Countess Rantzau and Prince Bismarck's niece.

Prince Bismarck personally communicated the news of the death of the princess to the emperor and empress, who immediately sent a long telegram of condolence. Among the others who have sent messages of sympathy and regret are the king of Wurtemberg, Chancellor Von Hohenlohe, and the ministers and secretaries of state.

The funeral ceremonies will be on a modest scale out of regard for Prince Bismarck's condition. The interment will probably be at Schonhausen, the ancestral home of the Bismarcks. It is expected that the body will be removed on Saturday. Prince Bismarck once expressed a wish to be buried under the oaks of his beloved Sachsenwald. It was concluded from this that he intended to build a mausoleum there, but the family vault is at Schonhausen.

The Princess Bismarck, Johanna Friedericka Charlotte Dorothea Eleonora de Puttkamer, was married to the ex-chancellor on the 28th of July, 1847, at Alt-Colziglow. Her domestic relations with her illustrious husband were understood to be of the most affectionate character, and, until strength failed her, she watched over his health and guarded his comfort with the tenderest solicitude.

Although Princess Bismarck took comparatively little part in political and court life, she was credited with possessing great influence over her husband, who is said to have consulted with her freely and to have reposed much faith in her judgment. The princess, however, was happiest when in the pursuit of her domestic duties, and she enjoyed the reputation of being a most notable housewife.

A Requisition for Irwin.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 28.—Governor Pattison issued a requisition last night on Governor Flower, of New York, for the return to Pittsburg of George M. Irwin, manager of the discretionary pool in that city, to answer the criminal charges growing out of the collapse of the pool. Detective Coulson, of Pittsburg, left with the papers, which he will take to Albany and lay them before Governor Flower. Irwin's lawyers made a vigorous effort to prevent the issuance of requisition papers, and failing in this have gone to New York to apply for a writ of habeas corpus. If they do not succeed in this they will go to Albany and fight the case before Governor Flower. If they lose there they declare they will appeal to the federal courts.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease and Hood's Sarsaparilla is a constitutional remedy. It cures catarrh. Give it a trial.

Use It in Time.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing, an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucus discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

BAKER'S RASCALITIES.

It Is Believed They Have Not Yet All Come to Light.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—So far as learned Samuel C. Seely, the defaulting bookkeeper of the National Shoe and Leather bank, has not been arrested. A brother of his, it seems, William L. Seely, was taken into custody by mistake and discharged soon after.

Investigation into the career of Seely's dead accomplice, Frederick Baker, is still going on, and those who are conducting it seem to believe that all his rascalities have not been discovered. There seems to be no doubt that he made away with property of various persons confided to his care as trustee, and that despite his large illegal drawings from the bank he died a comparatively poor man. It has been discovered that he was declared a bankrupt in 1885 and that he never received a discharge.

The insurance companies in which Baker obtained incontestible policies just before his death are sure that he committed suicide. As for the chances of recovery by the bank from the real estate holdings which he transferred to his wife, the lawyers are still in doubt. The disclosures about his early life as a barber in Brooklyn have astonished many of his acquaintances in this city and Brooklyn, who regarded him as a man who had always been in affluent circumstances.

Disagreeing as to Baker's Death.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 28.—An autopsy was performed last evening on the body of Frederick Baker, at his late residence at Sands Point, by Dr. L. L. Seaman, chief of the medical staff of the Mutual Reserve Fund Insurance company, in the presence of a number of other physicians. At the conclusion of the autopsy Dr. Coche still maintained the theory of drowning, but Dr. Seaman said: "I am positive that the body was not in a normal condition when it struck the water." An analysis of the organs will be made by experts, and until then it will be impossible to fix the cause of death.

Uncle Sam's Money Bags.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Mr. R. E. Preston, the director of the mint, has submitted to the secretary of the treasury his reports of the mints and assay offices for the fiscal year 1894. The value of the gold deposited is stated as $140,042,545. The deposits and purchases of silver during the year was 22,746,661 fine ounces, the coining value of the same in silver dollars being $29,409,825. The amount of silver bullion purchased under the act of July 14, 1890, was 11,917,059 fine ounces, at a cost of $8,715,521. Revised estimates of the world's production of the precious metals for the calendar year 1893 shows the same to have $157,225,100 in gold and $209,165,000 in silver.

Solly Smith Defeated on a Foul.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 28.—One of the most scientific fights ever seen in Buffalo was witnessed last night, when Solly Smith, of California, and Oscar Gardner, the Omaha Kid, met in the rooms of the Old Buffalo Athletic club in a fifteen round go, arranged by Manager Billy Madden, of Buffalo. The men were evenly matched, and it is hard to tell what the final outcome of the match would have been had not Solly Smith lost his head in the fifth round and punched Gardner before he regained his feet after a knockdown. The fight, therefore, was awarded to Gardner.

Disastrous Prairie Fires in Oklahoma.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Nov. 28.—Drought has dried up everything in this territory and prairie fires are doing much damage. In Pane county a large acreage was swept and a number of farmers lost heavily. John Livingston had his house, barn, fences, orchards and live stock destroyed, the family escaping with only their clothing. Several were badly burned. In Pawnee county a little child was caught and burned to death.

To Advance the Price of Coal.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The anthracite sales agents of the eastern trade held their monthly meeting yesterday. It was decided to make the December output about equal to one-half of the heaviest month's production of the year, which was made in June, and amounted to something over 5,000,000 tons. It was also decided to advance the tidewater rates.

Mills Running Night and Day.

PETERSBURG, Va., Nov. 28.—The mills of the Pocahontas Cotton Manufacturing company in this city began last evening running both day and night. This is due to the demand for their goods. These mills now give employment to 210 hands, and the company have advertised for 100 more operatives.

Forger Harvey Returned to Belair.

BELAIR, Md., Nov. 28.—Robert E. Harvey, alias George P. Sage, was brought to Belair at 10 o'clock last night and delivered into the custody of Sheriff Hughes. Sage was in charge of two Pinkerton men, who came with him all the way from Lansing, Mich.

His Mistake Cost Him His Life.

RALEIGH, Nov. 28.—During the night Alex Clark, a young engineer on the Seaboard Air line, jumped from his engine, breaking his neck and skull, because he thought a locomotive of which he saw the headlight was on the main line instead of a side track.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownsvalley, Ind., says: "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from nervousness, weakness of the stomach, dyspepsia and indigestion until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which did me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely medicine; a few bottles of it have cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicine in the world." Warranted the most wonderful stomach and nerve cure ever known. Sold by J. E. Mills, Middletown, N. Y.

GEORGIA'S LIQUOR LAW.

The Measure Which Will Probably Pass the Legislature.

ATLANTA, Nov. 28.—There is a strong probability that Georgia will in a short time have in full operation a dispensary system similar to that of South Carolina. The Bush dispensary bill has been pending before the general assembly for several days, and yesterday the senate temperance committee agreed to report a substitute providing that in incorporated towns where liquor is now allowed to be sold a vender may sell it only upon a petition of a majority of the freeholders of the town or city to the mayor or council. He shall then give bond to the ordinary in the sum of $5,000 for faithful observance of the law. He shall pay $100 to the state and all municipal and national taxes for one year.

He shall only purchase liquor to sell which has been pronounced by the state chemist pure and unadulterated, and to retail in quantities not less than half a pint, and shall not sell to minors or habitual drunkards. No liquor shall be drank on the premises. Each vendor shall have only one place of business, and nothing shall be sold in that place except intoxicating liquors, and it shall be in full view of the street, and there shall be no back doors or back windows or side doors. Each place shall be cleared at 10 p. m. and not opened until 5 a. m. This measure is likely to pass the general assembly and become a law.

The Vote of New Jersey.

TRENTON, Nov. 28.—The state board of canvassers met here yesterday afternoon and canvassed the district congressional vote cast at the recent election in this state. In only one county, Hunterdon, did the Democratic candidate succeed in obtaining a plurality. The total vote was: Democratic, 115,345; Republican, 163,823; Prohibition, 7,252; People's, 4,149; Socialistic Labor, 4,451; People's and Socialistic Labor, 1,193. The Republican congressional plurality in the state is 48,478. In the districts it is as follows: First district, 12,380; Second district, 9,741; Third district, 3,976; Fourth district, 1,407; Fifth district, 5,972; Sixth district, 8,478; Seventh district, 293; Eighth district, 6,236.

Senator Morgan Re-elected.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 28.—A ballot was taken in both houses of the general assembly yesterday for United States senator to succeed John T. Morgan. Morgan received 23 votes in the senate and 61 in the house; Warren Reese, Populist, of Montgomery, received 9 votes in the senate and 24 in the house. A joint convention was held today to announce the result and declare Morgan (dem.) elected. Reese will contest the seat, and it is said that the ballot for him yesterday is the first step in the organization of the Kolb government.

Bold Daylight Robbery in Oregon.

BAKER CITY, Ore., Nov. 28.—A daring robbery was committed here yesterday afternoon. Six heavily armed men, wearing masks, entered the Hotel Warshaus. The bystanders were placed under cover of arms, while two of the robbers relieved the saloon bar till and faro game of cash amounting to $1,180, which they placed in a sack and escaped. The fire alarm was rung by the officers a few minutes after the robbery, which drew out many people, but the robbers were not to be seen, having made their escape. There is no clew.

Philadelphia's Trolley Tragedies.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—The record of deaths and injuries by the trolley was increased yesterday, when William Seelig, 84 years old, and Nathan Weiss, aged 14, died from injuries recently received by being run over. Mrs. Mary Portman, aged 82, was struck by a car at Eighth and Chestnut streets, and will die, and five other persons were severely injured in a collision between two cars on Ridge avenue. This accident was caused by the negligence of a conductor, who left a switch open after crossing it.

Honors to Dr. Parkhurst.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The second annual dinner of the City Vigilance league was given last night. Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst was the guest of honor. Every reformer of note, together with a number of Republican politicians who joined forces with the reform Democrats at the last election to defeat Tammany, were present. General Horace Porter presided, and speeches were made by Rev. Dr. Parkhurst, Bishop Potter, Rev. Lyman Abbott and others.

Charged with Forging Justice Fuller's Name

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—A warrant was issued yesterday for the arrest of Matthew Aubrey, the young man who created a sensation several years ago by eloping with a daughter of Chief Justice Fuller, of the United States supreme court. The charge is forgery, Aubrey being accused of signing the name of his father-in-law to a check for a small amount in the Atlas National bank, of this city.

SATOLLI ON SCHOOLS.

The Papal Delegate Writes of Rome's Educational Systems.

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS IN THE LEAD.

These Schools, Mgr. Satolli Declares, Are More Patriotic and More Italian in Spirit and Method Than the Secular Schools.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—In an article on the Catholic school system in the December number of The North American Review Mgr. Satolli makes his first contribution to American periodical literature.

Mgr. Satolli devotes his article to a review of the foundation of Catholic schools in Rome by private funds independent of the Italian school system after the government had succeeded in eliminating Catholic influence from the educational institutions.

Mgr. Satolli says that in number the Catholic schools exceed the government and municipal schools combined. In regard to the qualifications of teachers, the text books and programs and the method of teaching the Catholic schools endeavor to adjust themselves as far as possible to the requirements of the state. The religious corporations stopped at no expense or sacrifice to provide for their own schools a select body of teachers who, being furnished with the proper diplomas, would gain by their ability, zeal and conduct the confidence of the public.

Special text books had to be written for the Catholic schools, but in compiling the curriculum the endeavor was made to bring them as far as possible into harmony with those in use in the public schools, both as regards the division of classes and the courses of studies.

"In endeavoring to conform the Catholic program," says Mgr. Satolli, "with that of the government, the fact was not lost sight of that, although the state may theoretically and in the abstract be described as the representative of the people, it is practically dominated by a party, and favors the system of education which is advocated by the party in power rather than that which is best adapted to the needs of the people. Even in connection with the method of teaching—in which the Catholic schools differ greatly from the public schools—the pontifical commission was at pains to conform to the requirements of the state."

The number of pupils in the elementary Catholic schools exceeds that in the municipal schools, and if the number in the Catholic high schools is a trifle smaller than that in the corresponding state schools this is because it is much easier for the young men who attend the state schools to obtain diplomas, as the examiners for diplomas are the teachers in the state schools. In spite of the humiliation and opposition to which Catholics are subjected the parents have not lost confidence in the Catholic schools, and the results are more than satisfactory.

Taking into account the contributions made for the purpose of Catholic education in Rome from all quarters, the expenses for primary Catholic education in Rome would reach a total of at least one and a quarter million lire yearly. This amount comes from direct donations of the holy father, from the estates of the holy see, from donations of certain corporations churches, congregations and individuals, and from the fees of certain institutions.

Mgr. Satolli emphasizes the claim that the Catholic schools in Rome are more patriotic, more Italian in spirit and in methods than the secular schools, since it has been their special aim to deviate as little as possible from the national traditions, which so harmoniously combine faith and science, and to furnish the boys and girls of the new generation with that grade of culture which is best adapted to their social position.

Confessed His Crime While Drunk.

TUNKHANNOCK, Pa., Nov. 28.—Fred Wall, a young man about 24 years of age, was arrested here by Detective Richmond, of Pittston, for the murder of C. W. Waterman on the night of Jan. 8 last. Waterman lived at Nicholson, and on the day mentioned came to Tunkhannock to attend court. He fell in with Wall and other companions, and they drank until late at night, when Waterman's dead body was found in an alley, with a terrible wound in the left temple. The coroner's jury failed to fix the responsibility upon any one. Detective Richmond came here and made the acquaintance of Wall. He got him drunk and Wall confidentially told the story of the crime, implicating others with himself.

Politics and Incendiarism.

SYLVANIA, Ga., Nov. 28.—There is great excitement over the arrest and incarceration of seven negroes charged with burning the house and barns of Jessie T. Wade, two weeks ago and causing a loss of $7,000. The negroes confess their crime, and declare that they were led into it by white men who had a political grudge against Wade. Every effort is at the present time being made to capture the white men implicated. As the political excitement ran high in this country during the recent election, and as there is still bitter feeling between Democrats and Populists, fears are entertained that the incendiaries will be lynched.

THE LOSS OF THE FALCON.

The Peary Steamer Wrecked and All of Her Crew Reported Drowned.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Nov. 28.—In regard to the report that the steamer Falcon was lost on the Virgin Rocks it can be said that the story originated at Port Morien, Cape Breton. The report was not verified. The Virgin Rocks were not in the track of the Falcon. If she had been lost there, local fishing craft would have brought reliable news here before this. The report may safely be dismissed as unfounded. The consensus of opinion here among navigators is that the Falcon was struck by a gale off St. Pierre on the night of Oct. 9, and went down with all on board.

The Falcon's crew of sixteen men were all residents of Newfoundland, and most of them lived at St. John's. Their names follow: Henry Bartlett, captain; Edward Tracey, first officer; Thomas Snow, second officer; Carl Fischer, chief engineer; Charles Rankin, second engineer; David Barry, fireman; John Wells, fireman; George Kennedy, fireman; Lawrence Hackett, chief steward; Bernard Wall, assistant steward, and Seamen Michael Walsh, John Lutters, Stephen Johnson, James Burridge, John Verge, John Cassidy.

THE HOT HEADED KOLBITES.

Reported to be Arming to Seat Kolb as Governor.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 28.—It has just been learned that certain hot headed Kolbite leaders in several north Alabama counties have issued secret calls for armed men in companies of 100 to 500 to volunteer to go to Montgomery on inauguration day to help to seat Kolb as governor. The call urges the Kolb followers to "maintain their rights and carry out the will of the people," and it is said companies are being organized.

In Selma so great is the apprehension felt that armed guards have been placed over the local military armory to prevent a possible raid upon the arms by Kolbites, who may desire to arm themselves for their Montgomery trip. All the troops in the state have arranged to go to Montgomery, and it is said they will carry their guns loaded. Governor Jones says that while he anticipates no trouble, the authorities are well prepared to stamp out any disorder that may occur. Kolb will not be arrested unless he commits some overt act or collides with the constituted authorities.

Murdered by Would-be Robbers.

ARDMORE, I. T., Nov. 28.—Last Friday George Isaacs, a stockman living in the western part of the Chickasaw nation, expressed to himself from Kansas City two packages said to contain $25,000. The packages were addressed to Canadian, Tex. About thirty minutes after the arrival of the train bearing the packages four robbers rode up to the express office and attempted to rob the agent. In the fight that ensued Deputy Sheriff McGee was mortally wounded and has since died. The robbers were frightened off without securing anything. A pursuing party overtook the gang in the Wichita mountains. In the fight that followed two of the bandits and one of the prisoners were killed.

The Royalist Plot in Hawaii.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—The steamer Oceanic arrived yesterday from Yokohama via Honolulu. The Oceanic brings no later news than was received on the Empress of China, which arrived at Victoria Nov. 20. At Honolulu there was still considerable excitement over the recent revolutionary plot. The leaders of the royalist faction were still declaring trouble was sure to occur soon after the sailing of the Oceanic. Government officials, however, declared no trouble need be feared. The conspiracy, they said, though it did not at any time threaten serious trouble for the government, has been completely frustrated.

Hunting for Pitezel in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—If Benjamin F. Pitezel is in New York city the various insurance companies here know, or claim to know nothing whatever about it. Pitezel is the insurance swindler whose life insurance was collected by Holmes, his partner, in Philadelphia, and the statement that he is at present in New York was given out by Lawyer W. A. Shoemaker, of Philadelphia, and President Fouse, of the Fidelity Insurance company of that city. A Philadelphia detective arrived today to hunt for him.

Alleged Incendiary Fires.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—The pattern shops of the Pullman Palace Car company, situated at One Hundred and Fourth street and Orison avenue, were destroyed by fire last night. Some of the minor officials are inclined to consider the fire as incendiary. Twice last week cars standing near the shop were discovered to be on fire, without apparent cause, and the Pullman people are inclined to believe that all the fires were incendiary.

CHARGES OF FRAUD.

South Carolina's Legislature Petitioned to Investigate.

DR. POPE'S SENSATIONAL CLAIMS.

The Defeated Independent Candidate for Governor Declares That Frauds at the Polls Were Committed by the Commands of Governor Tillman and Senator Irby.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 28.—In a petition to the general assembly asking for an investigation of the recent election which Dr. Sampson Pope, the defeated Independent candidate for governor of South Carolina, filed yesterday, charges are made that United States Senator Irby and Governor Tillman instigated frauds to secure the election of John Gary Evans, the Tillman candidate.

The petition asserts that the recent state election was illegal, as it was held under the election law of 1892, the provisions of which are declared to be in direct violation of the state and United States constitutions. It is alleged that the polling places were barricaded and obstructed so that thousands of Pope voters were prevented from voting; that managers unlawfully rejected many Pope votes; that managers fraudulently abstracted Pope votes from the boxes and substituted Evans ballots, and that supervisors of elections gave out thousands of illegal registration tickets to Evans voters.

The petition declares: "These frauds, intimidations and acts of violence committed by supervisors and managers and partisans of John Gary Evans were committed in very many cases at the immediate instance of county chairmen of the Democratic party, who in turn received their instructions and orders for such action from John L. M. Irby, chairman of the Democratic executive committee and United States senator, and from Benjamin R. Tillman, governor of the state of South Carolina, whose sworn duty it was to see that laws be faithfully executed, but who so far from doing so in some instances instructed said county chairmen to call to their aid in executing these frauds, acts of intimidation and violence sheriffs, constables and armed forces of the state if necessary for their accomplishment."

Request is made that this contest of election of governor be determined by legal procedure. Accompanying this petition was a concurrent resolution that Dr. Pope be heard before each body of the general assembly; that he have witnesses summoned to prove his allegations, and that pending the contest returns for governor shall not be opened and tabulated.

Lawyer Murdered by a Milkman.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Edward P. Hilliard, an attorney in the Rookery building, was shot and killed yesterday afternoon by Henry C. Hastings, a milk dealer. Hastings claims that by sharp practices Hilliard has taken from him about $6,000 worth of property. Yesterday Hilliard foreclosed on a horse and buggy owned by Hastings, and the latter shot the attorney while exasperated over the transaction. Hastings said after being locked up: "That man has taken away all my property, so I thought I'd let my body and soul go with it."

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 28.—As a result of the findings of the court of inquiry, which investigated the actions of the state militia during the recent strike troubles, Governor Markham has ordered that Company A, of the Second Infantry regiment, and Company G, of the Third infantry, be mustered out of the service. During the outbreak in this city the men of both companies refused to advance upon the strikers.

BILL WAS NOT DEAD.

HE DISPROVES JUMPIN JOE'S REMARK TO THAT EFFECT.

And Jumpin Joe Thereupon Turns the Subject to George Washington, Who Invented the Famous Pie of That Name. A Few More Shining Examples.

Bevin closed my exhibishun at Harmony Corners the other eavenin in peace and good will, and the large and cultivated audjence seemin to want fur sumthin more before departin fur thar varchewous homes, I secoored my animals and inseeks and reptiles again accident and purceeded to say: "It ar' my painful dooty to announce the death of Shakespeare to the assembled multitoode afore me. He had a front name, the same as most of us present, and it was William. As to whether he fell out of a tree, was drowned in a creek or was run over by a herd of steers I can't say, but the fact of his death is sartin. I got it in sich a way that thar can't be no mistake about it. Another good man has bin removed from our midst. Agin we ar' called upon to realize that in the midst of life we ar' in death. While I hadn't the pleasure of his personal acquaintance, nor kin I rightly remember jist whar his claim was located, his reputashun fur trooth, honor and integrity was no stranger to me. Thar was a critter, as nigh as I kin figger out, whose mishun was the same as my own—the happiness of his feller men afore and above all else. He had a heart. He was marciful, sympathetic and full of pity fur the misfortunes of others. He had no grand aggregashun of reptile intelligence, no panoramy nor fam'ly remedies, but he went about the kentry seekin to do good and accomplish much. If a critter cum to him"—

SHAKESPEARE.

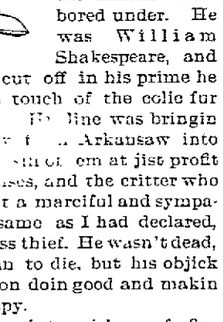
At this p'int an ole kuss riz up from a back seat and wiped his weepin eyes on a red woolen rag which had bin tied around his sore throat. He said he hadn't intended to gin hisself away, bein a stranger to the town, but as I had spoken so feelingly of him he desired to correct the mistake I labored under. He was William Shakespeare, and so fur from bein cut off in his prime he hadn't even had a touch of the colic fur three months past. His line was bringin mewls and [illegible] Arkansaw into Cherokee [illegible] em at jist profit [illegible] nses, and the critter who said [illegible] he hadn't a marciful and sympathetic heart, the same as I had declared, was a liar and a hoss thief. He wasn't dead, and he didn't mean to die, but his objick was to keep right on doin good and makin his feller men happy.

FAMOUS PIE

I announced an intermishun of five minits, doorin which the hull crowd embraced Shakespeare and wept in unison with him, and then I purceeded:

"Afore this exhibishun opened I war axed by an eminent citizen of your enterprisin town to take advantage of the occashun to wring in a few words in favor of George Washington. Desirin to be on the safe side, I won't positively announce that he ar' dead, though I'm willin to bet $10 even up that he ar'. Leavin that out of the question, I'm free to say that if we had a hundred men like him in this yere Cherokee strip thar would be sich a boom that we couldn't hold the crowd.

"Besides bein a patriot from Sunday mornin to Saturday night, he was ever on the side of the pore and oppressed and ever seekin to do good. No weepin widder or fatherless child applied to him and went away uncomforted. No tenderfut axed him fur a dollar that he didn't git it. Besides doin his reg'lar farm work he fit the British, run the kentry and invented the Washington pie, a pie which is known in every city in the land from Maine to California. It wasn't in him to compound a sassyparilly or gather together a grand aggregashun like you hev witnessed yere this eavenin. His line was different, same as your lines ar'. Mebbe he'd hev got along in this Cherokee kentry and mebbe not. It might hev bin in him to handle six hosses and a stagecoach; but, if so, we hev never heard of it. However, taken all in all, nobody should be stingy about singin his praises. Fur a man who never sot a ba'rtrap, lived in a sod shanty or owned to bein the father of 'leven children he did powerfully well, and if the aujeence ar' agreeable we'll gin him three cheers."



BROTHER OF GEORGE WASHINGTON.

It was a Washingtonian multitoode. It riz up as one man and yelled fur the Father of His Kentry. After the yellin had subsided it was noticed that a dilapidated ole critter who had exhibited much emoshun doorin my remarks was still on his feet. Placin my hand on my patriotic heart, I invited him to add to my remarks if he felt inclined, and sumwhat to our astonishment he announced hisself as Thomas Washington, the only survivin brother of George. He had rid in a distance of 'leven miles on a blind hoss to attend my exhibishun and had no idea that his brother George would be referred to in any manner.

My feelin remarks had teched his heart. He didn't want any pertickler praise fur bein the only survivin brother of the man who gin this nashun its fust boom, but he did want to express his gratitood to the people of Harmony Corners fur their loyalty and patriotism. He wasn't workin in the same line as George, but had cum out from Illinoy to interdooce a washin masheen which would save America $10,000,000 worth of soap every y'ar. The mishun of one was to save the kentry and he other to save the soap, though it amounted to the same thing in the end. He wasn't sartin about George's death either, but not hevin heard from him fur several y'ars he was inclined to think he might hev gone under in the conflict. All that I had said in praise of the great man was true, and a heap more could be related without stretchin the trooth. After the close of the performance his washin masheen could be seen at the hotel, and he would at the same time hold hisself cheerfully willin to gin sich informashun about the Washington family as he had on hand. When I had called fur three more cheers fur the brother of George and they had bin given, I made a few ramblin remarks about sich bangup chaps as Nero, Kit Carson, Diogenese and Davy Crockett, tachin altogether on thar var chews and holdin 'em up as shinin examples of what a man could becum if he tightened his suspenders, greased his heels and made a try fur it. The applause was as enthoosiastic as I could wish fur, and when the meetin finally broke up the multitood declared that the moral examples held up afore them would be of everlastin benefit to Cherokee at large and Harmony Corners in pertickler.

Her Appearance

speaks louder than words. She doesn't use Pearline. She's worn out with hard work. Household drudgery, you can see, has told upon her. Possibly you are a woman who is going the same way. Now, these are days when such things needn't be, for most women. Labor savers are all around you, and, for woman's work, Pearline heads the list.

Take advantage of the hints of science. They are broad enough to the bright, and they help the lowest kind of work as well as the highest. In every sort of washing and cleaning, let Pearline help you.

Send it Back

Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. 428 JAMES PYLE, New York.

Just One of Them.

Scene—Street car. Enters Mrs. Gadd, with bundles and bright smile as she recognized a friend seated near the door.

"Why, Mrs. Smith, how do you do? So very glad to see you. Isn't it terrible walking? I declare, I'm just covered with mud. Do you mind holding these bundles while I get my pocketbook? Thank you so much.

(To conductor) "A penny? Why, so it is. These small coins are such a nuisance.

(Continuing to Mrs. Smith) "Well, how have you been? Baby had the whooping cough? You don't say so? Why, I'm so sorry. Great deal of it around just now. I hear Fannie Fumble's got it. I just met her mother at Karnold's. Oh, they've got the loveliest fall goods you ever saw. I've been there two mortal hours trying to match brown cloth. You know that suit I had last winter? Yes. Well, I'm having it made over, you know, but it's a dreadful bother. These dressmakers who go out by the day are such pokes. And to think they are getting $3, too. Isn't it dreadful?

(To conductor) "Oh, please stop here. Eh? Thirty-fourth street? Oh, well, never mind. I thought it was Forty-eighth. That's where I want to get out.

(Resuming to Mrs. Smith) "These conductors are so stupid, aren't they? Well, what was I saying? Oh, yes, about that brown suit of mine. You see, the skirt was so dreadfully scant and skimpy, I thought I'd put another width in; but, would you believe it, when I wanted more—did you ever see such a hat as that woman has on over there?—there wasn't so much as a scrap of the material left and—what, do you get out here? So sorry. Goodby. Remember me to all at home. Goodby. Oh, yes, I will. Goodby. So glad we met. Oh, Mrs. Smith, one minute. Did you know Bessie Floss is engaged? Yes, to Tom Toddler. Splendid match. Goodby, goodby, goodby!"

"And it is the likes of them," said the conductor as he pulled the bell strap with a vicious jerk, "that makes me behind time every trip."—Truth.

Helping Him Out.

A bustling, pompous little man walked into the office of the general freight agent of one of the railroads centering in Buffalo the other day. It was easy to see at a glance that he had come prepared for war.

"Where's the boss?" he inquired of one of the clerks.

He was directed to the presence of that august person.

"I'm X. Y. Zed," he began, "and I'm a produce merchant down at Podunk, and I want to know why you don't furnish me with more cars when I send for them."

"Traffic for the last few days has been very heavy," began the manager mildly. But the man from Podunk interrupted him hotly:

"Oh, you can't work any of those bluffs on me. Your yard in full of cars. I saw them when I came in on the way freight. And I want three of them sent to X. Y. Zed, Podunk, right away."

"Really, Mr. Zed"—

"Come, now, I won't hear any excuses. I've got to have those cars. There's no ifs and buts about it. I've got to have them, understand?"

"Well, if it's really so pressing, Mr. Zed"—

"Now you're beginning to talk."

"As I attempted to say, if it's really so pressing I suppose it is useless for me to say no to you. But really I can see only one way by which you can get those cars today."

"One way is enough. What is it?"

"I would suggest, Mr. Zed, that you buy the railroad."—Buffalo Express.

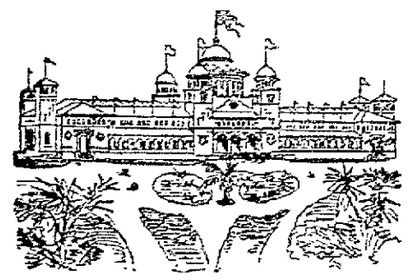
WHERE COTTON REIGNS.

Interesting Exhibit of the Texas Cotton Palace in Hustling Waco.

The mammoth Texas cotton palace was recently thrown open to the public in Waco, and cotton now reigns as king in the Lone Star State. He is rather a cheap king just now and is doing business on a 5 cent basis, but nevertheless thousands of his subjects are flocking to Waco daily to see him. Waco is a hustling young city in the heart of the cotton growing region of Texas. In 1888 50,000 acres in McLennan county, of which Waco is county seat, produced 20,725 bales of cotton, valued at $963,712.

The cotton palace is the creation of Waco's enterprising citizens, who built it at an expense of $250,000. The building is 400 feet long and 300 feet broad and is filled with one of the most interesting cotton, agricultural and manufacturing exhibits ever displayed. The interior decorations, pictures and statuary are nearly all constructed of the natural products of the state, and some of the pictures made of leaves and grain are works of art.

Texas has now become one of the greatest cotton growing states in the



THE WACO COTTON PALACE.

Union. Upward of 5,000,000 acres of cotton land are under cultivation, and the 1,900,000 bales raised in 1893 sold for $66,500,000, while the 900,000 tons of cotton seed, the product that enters so largely into the construction of the "pure olive oil" we use, brought $15,500,000. The cotton crop of 1893 was thus worth $82,000,000 to Texas. It was alone exceeded in value by the cattle interest, which was valued at $84,000,000.

Waco is not only a great cotton growing center, but it is also a railroad center of much importance. Three trunk lines, the Houston and Texas Central, the St. Louis, Arkansas and Texas, and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas, enter the city, and there are other important railroads. Waco's growth in population has been very rapid. In 1880 the city had but 7,395 people, and in 1890 the population had doubled. When the cotton palace opened recently, there were 80,000 people in the building or on the grounds. The palace is owned by a company of Waco business men, and the intention is to hold a cotton exposition within its walls every year.

NOTABLE NEW CONGRESSMEN.

Three Members Elect Who Are Interesting For Various Reasons.

The recent political upheaval will bring many new and striking figures into public life, while many "old familiar faces" will disappear from their accustomed places in the national capitol. Of the new men some have already distinguished themselves, while others are chiefly interesting as having defeated eminent statesmen whose position in public office was regarded as impregnable. To the latter class belongs Alston G. Drayton, who surprised the country by defeating Chairman William L. Wilson of the ways and means committee in the Second West Virginia district. Mr. Dayton is new to national politics, and his course in congress will be watched with interest.

William M. Springer, who has been conspicuous in Washington for 14 years, is another of the Democratic leaders who will be missed from the Fifty-fourth congress. He will be succeeded by Major James A. Connolly, a Springfield lawyer. Major Connolly was born in Newark, N. J., in 1842, and was educated at the academy in Chesterville,

M. W. HOWARD.

ALSTON G. DAYTON. JAMES A. CONNOLLY.

O. He was admitted to the bar in 1860 and in December of that year hung out his shingle in Charleston, Ills. In June, 1862, he raised a company of volunteers and was elected captain. He served through the war, retiring with the title of major. Since the war Major Connolly has practiced his profession in Springfield. He held the office of United States district attorney under Presidents Grant, Hayes and Arthur.

Mr. M. W. Howard has been elected to congress from the Seventh Alabama district on the strength of his reputation as the author of a violently sensational book entitled "If Christ Came to Congress." This work has created a deal of talk in Washington, as it purports to reveal in the plainest language certain fashionable vices to which members of congress and other public officials are addicted. The motive and literary style of the book have been severely criticised by persons who admit that many of its revelations are substantially true. But its author will probably figure as one of the celebrities of the Fifty-fourth congress.

Mr. Howard is only 31 years old, is over 6 feet tall and powerfully built. He is a lawyer and lives at Fort Payne, Ala. He was a member of the Democratic national convention of 1892, but is now a Populist.

A VICTORY FOR PASKOLA

It Receives the Official Endorsement of Eminent Experts and a Jury of Representative Citizens.

The suit brought by Ohio's Food Commissioner against a Cincinnati druggist for selling Paskola on the ground that it was nothing but glucose, resulted in a great victory for Paskola and a verdict against the State.

During the course of the trial, Prof. Shaller of the University of Cincinnati, testified that Paskola was not glucose, and even if it was, it would be harmless. He also bore witness to its activity as a digestive agent.

Prof. Wm. Dickore of the Miami College, testified to the same facts. So did Prof. Schmidt, the chemist of the Board of Health, Prof. Wm. Hoffman and others.

A practical test was made in court, showing the digestive action of Paskola on eggs and meats of various kinds, whereas glucose under precisely the same conditions produced no effect whatever.

This test but confirmed the expert's statements and proved Paskola to be of great value in indigestion and wasting diseases.

This verdict disposes of the malicious attack that has been made against Paskola by interested rivals, and suits have now been brought against the proprietors of a well-known emulsion of cod liver oil for having given wide circulation to a false formula and other misrepresentations regarding it.

The animus of this attack will be the better understood when it is stated that Paskola is being largely used in the place of cod liver oil.

STOCK AND PRODUCE MARKETS.

Closing Quotations of the New York and Philadelphia Exchanges.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—The stock market opened heavy and declined a fraction in the early dealings, which was followed by a slight rally. During the last hour the market was strong under the leadership of Sugar. Closing bids:

The opinion was supplemented to one filed some time ago dismissing a plea of the Democrats to an information in quo warranto proceedings brought by the Republicans to oust the Democratic board. This opinion establishes the legality of the Republican board.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

In the early days of the settlement of New England, when afflictions came upon the pious Pilgrims, they were accustomed to meet together to fast and pray and mortify the flesh until their bodies were more miserable than their souls, and their souls were more miserable than they were when the vigils of fasting and prayer began, for there is no more certain way of magnifying and increasing troubles than by brooding over them. After a while, however, the thinking men among the Puritans realized that though there were troubles in the world difficult to be borne, those troubles were never made lighter by afflicting the mind or body. It occurred to them that every cloud, no matter how dark, was touched somewhere by a golden ray of light, that it was always darkest just before the day and that as troubles grow greater by brooding over them, so blessings grow greater and brighter if the mind dwells upon them.

From this latter class was evolved the idea of Thanksgiving Day. Their prayers ascended to God just as earnestly as did the prayers of those who gave themselves up to brooding over life's ills; but they were prayers of joy and thankfulness, not of woe and complaining. In 1622 a day was set apart for the acknowlegment of the goodness of God and as time went on this New England custom became a national one and the President, by proclamation, now calls upon all the people to turn aside from their daily pursuits and occupations and return thanks to the Giver of all good for mercies shown in deliverance from evil and in the daily and hourly dispensation of His bounties and His blessings.

The religious idea of Thanksgiving Day has been largely lost sight of in recent years. It has become a great national festival, a day of feasting and good cheer and, above all, the day of family reunions. What the modern Thanksgiving Day really is was never better described than by the poet Whittier, who says:—

"Ah! on Thanksgiving Day, when from East and from West,
From North and from South come pilgrim and guest,
When the gray-haired New Englander sees round his board
The old broken links of affection restored,
When the care-worn man seeks his mother once more,
And the worn matron smiles where the girl smiled before."

Union Thanksgiving Services

Union Thanksgiving services will be held, to-morrow morning, in the First Presbyterian church. Rev. F. A. Heath, of the First Baptist Church, will preach the sermon. Services at 10:30 o'clock.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The most important development in the attitude of the United States, to-day, was the action of the President in communicating to Rear Admiral Walker an intimation that in case of necessity for mobilizing the American fleet on the Central American coast, he should hold himself in readiness to assume command.

The ships that could be assembled in ten days in the West Indies are the New York, Columbia, San Francisco, Marblehead, Castine and Montgomery.

THE BIG BANK ROBBERY.

Seely Not Yet Found—No New Developments in the Case.

BY UNITED PRESS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28—As yet there is no news of Seely, the missing bookkeeper of the National Shoe and Leather Bank. President Crane, of the bank, said there were no fresh developments in the case. There is another box belonging to suicide Baker yet to be opened, which will probably throw some light on what became of the stolen funds of the bank. Baker's remains were interred in Greenwood Cemetery, to-day.

ERIE DIRECTORS RE-ELECTED.

Some of the Doubtful Assets That Have Now Been Charged Off.

The old Board of Directors was re-elected without opposition yesterday at the annual meeting of the New York, Lake Erie and Western Railway Company. Mr. J. G. McCullough cast the vote of 38,659,700 shares of stock, and Mr. C. H. Coster of Drexel, Morgan & Co. cast the vote of $32,418,900 bonds. Director William A. Wheelock was Chairman of the meeting.

Mr. E. H. Harriman, of Arden, who has led the opposition to the directors plan, of reorganization, was present and asked many questions concerning items in the annual report.

One of his questions was as to items which made up the $4,196,020 heretofore carried as doubtful assets and advances to subsidiary companies and now charged to profit and loss. A list of these items was prepared showing, among other things that $1,720,125 represented losses on the Erie Coal Company, $534,115 losses on the Union Steamboat Company. $193,212 advances to or losses on the old Chicago and Atlantic, and other smaller items, all antedating the advent of the present management. One item of $931,122 was for "third rail." The laying of the third rail giving the Erie a standard gauge from Jersey City to Buffalo, was completed on Dec. 24, 1878.

Mr. Harriman also asked if the items under the head "Current Assets" are collectible and how money is to be raised to pay "audited vouchers for supplies, &c.," amounting to $1,393,158. For answers to both of these questions he was referred to the receivers, Receiver McCullough said after the meeting that these vouchers would be paid out of earnings, and that a request for authority to issue receiver's certificates is not in contemplation.

There were many rumors afloat of probable changes in the plan of reorganization, including reports of an assessment on the stock and a reduction in the rate of interest of the new bonds from five to four per cent No changes in the plan have yet been made, though it is not unlikely that it will be modified in some respects

First Vice-President Thomas said yesterday that there had been some improvement recently in the coal and iron traffic of the company, but that its business continues dull, and that there will be a very small eastbound grain traffic.

Children's Clothing Again!

IS it possible that you have already forgotten what we said about children's clothing? If so, we repeat for your especial benefit. 'Twas this: We are selling our entire stock of Children's Clothing without profit. This method we have adopted because we believe that can we once serve you we shall always serve you, feeling assured we can supply you with the best goods at the lowest price attainable. We have marked the prices on the children's goods in plain figures, so you can see for yourself.

To the contrary, as has been insinuated, we are not working off old stock because we sell without profit. The stock is all new, and the same that we would have sold you at a profit had we not adopted this method.

Again:—Is it probable that we make up the profit on the other lines of stock with other clothiers in town, when we sell, as we do, below their rates? How think you?

those with clearly defined ideas as to quality and who know a good thing when they see it. It's the kind of trade for which we cater and the quality of our goods is our strong argument. In medicines there should be but one quality and that the best obtainable. That's our rule. Where do you get your prescriptions? Do they receive skill, accuracy and quality? Be particular. Bring them to us. McMonagle & Rogers, Druggist.

OUR CITY'S REASONS FOR THANKSGIVING

The Hard Times Have Touched Us Very Lightly, as Compared With Many Manufacturing Towns—The Electric Road a Great Help.

Middletown has much to be thankful for at this annual thanksgiving season. While most other cities have had good reason to complain of hard times during the past two years Middletown has not suffered to any great extent, as compared with other places. It is true that some of our industrial establishments have been shut down a portion of the time, have reduced their working force, or have been run on short time, and some hardship has resulted, but on the whole our factories and shops have furnished employment for a large number of the wage earning class at fairly remunerative rates, and some of them in fact have increased their volume of business and given employment to additional hands, while in other places machinery has stood idle, and those who depended on manufacturing for a living have been deprived of the ordinary comforts of life and their necessities have been provided for by the charity of those more favored by fortune.

A great boon to Middletown during the "hard times" was the building of the electric road. It has for more than a year furnished employment to hundreds of men in the work of construction, improvements at the park, erecting the company's plant and running its cars.

Many thousands of dollars have been distributed among the employes and by them thrown into channels of trade, and thus in a general way has the road been a financial benefit to the town, generally, to say nothing of its convenience to our people and the prestige it gives our town abroad as a bustling city.

Yes, Middletown has much to be thankful for. Aside from its commercial prosperity it has been free from epidemics, such as have visited neighboring cities and towns, and it has suffered but little from fires, business failures or disasters of any kind that interfere with or retard the progress of a town.

HYMENEAL.

Day—Taylor.

The residence of the Messrs. and Misses Taylor on Highland avenue was the scene of a very happy event, when, at 1 o'clock, this afternoon, Miss Emily Rainey Taylor, daughter of the late Archibald R Taylor, was united in marriage to Sherman Ernest Day, a leading lawyer of St. Paul, Minn. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr Gordon, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, in the presence of the immediate family of the bride.

A wedding luncheon was served after the ceremony and at 2:53 the happy young couple boarded Erie train 3 for New York.

The wedding trip will include New York, Philadelphia, Washington and other points of interest and will conclude about December 15, at their future home, No. 511 Grand avenue, St. Paul.

Miss Taylor is a most estimable young lady and during her residence in this city has made many friends who, while they will wish her every happiness in her new relation, will regret her departure from Middletown.

Harden—Smith.

Reeves Harden, Susquehanna and Western station agent at Hamburgh, N. J., a former resident of the town of Minisink, was married at 1 o'clock, this afternoon, to Laura, daughter of James K. Smith, proprietor of the Smith House at Hamburgh. A large company of relatives and friends was present. Mr. and Mrs. Harden will leave on the 5:42 train for a wedding journey to New York Boston and Albany.

Judge Dixon's Hunting Case Taken to the Supreme Court.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN.

St. John's Church Fair—Glad the Cars Are Running—A Hunting Trip—Checks for the Onion Crop—Union Thanksgiving Services—Other Notes.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

—The fair at St. John's Hall, in aid of St. John's Church, opens to-morrow evening and will be continued Saturday evening. Special music will be provided. The running of the electric cars ought to insure the attendance of many Middletown people.

—Our people gladly welcome the opening of the electric road, and it is safe to say that many of them will avail themselves of the opportunity it will afford and "run up to Middletown," to-morrow.

—Mr. H. B. Knight and Dr. Ward went hunting in the vicinity of Monroe, yesterday, but had no better sport than hunters who try their luck nearer home. A rumor is afloat that they saw a rabbit, but it cannot be verified.

—Many onion growers in this vicinity received checks, this morning, from the commission houses that sold their crops. They lost no time in cashing them at the banks and many laid in supplies for Thanksgiving.

—At Cataracts' hop at Music Hall, to-night, a concert will be given before dancing begins.

—Interest in to-morrow's foot ball game increases and if the day is at all favorable the attendance will no doubt be large.

—Union Thanksgiving services will be held at the M. E. Church, to-morrow, at 10:30 a. m. Rev. R. B. Clark, of the Presbyterian Church, will preach the sermon.

—The post office will close at noon, to-morrow, and will be open again from 6 to 7 p. m.

—Levy's stationery store will be closed at noon, to-morrow. Customers will please call in the forenoon for their papers.

Thanksgiving Services—Local and Personal Notes—A Touch of the Pharisee in Most of Us—The Story of the Pair of India Rubbers.

(From a Special Correspondent.)

—Thanksgiving services will be held at St. James's Church, to-morrow, at 10:30 a. m., and union services at the Methodist Church at 10:30 a. m. At the latter service, the sermon will be preached by Rev. R. B. Clark.

—Miss Pope's dancing class met, this afternoon, at the residence of Hon. R. C. Coleman.

—Mr. D. Jackson Steward and family left for their New York home, to-day.

—Unsuspected by ourselves there must lurk within the breast of each and every one of us a spice of the spirit of that sect who, many hundred years ago, thanked the Lord that they were "not as other men;" otherwise our first impulse, when we have done a stupid or wrong thing, would not be to lay the blame of it on some one else because it is so hard for us to believe that it is possible to do anything either foolish or wicked ourselves. Is is so easy to view the faults and follies of others with a certain amused tolerance, as though, of course, nothing else was to be expected from them—so hard to realize that we are equally liable to be guilty of them. If we find that a friend falls below our ideal of him, we suffer from it, but after all it is not so humiliating as when we ourselves take a "header" from the pedestal of our self esteem.

—A lady in this village recently made a not very savory burnt offering upon the altar of forgetfulness or absent mindedness. In a fit of mild extravagance she bought for herself a pair of India rubbers. She is a person not given to vain self adornment, consequently she did not flaunt her purchases before the eyes of her less fortunate neighbors but was content to wear them unostentatiously on damp and rainy days. On a day of this description she made a visit to a friend in a neighboring city, and, having nothing else to leave behind her, for a woman is not true to her sex unless she leaves something, she departed without the India rubbers. When she arrived at the station she discovered her loss and mourned it, but her friend told her that she would be sending her a package in a few days and in it would enclose the rubbers. The box was duly received and unpacked and, a few days afterward, the lady being seized with an attack of the nature known as "clearing up," made a bonfire of sundry "useless" articles among which she included the wrapping papers from the box, remarking as she did so that one of them felt uncommonly heavy. Pretty soon a fragrance as of burning India rubber stole forth upon the autumn breeze and she rushed to the rescue, but too late, for the "goloshes" were even then turning up their innocent toes appealingly toward the blue sky above them, while the owner watched the tragic close of their brief life with unavailing remorse. A RETIRED BUSINESS WOMAN.

A Page From Her History.

The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 25 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in business, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My feet and limbs were badly swollen, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gentleman directed my attention to Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been relieved by the remedy, and was again a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than an hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my ankles, something I had not done for two days, and my limbs had been swollen so much that they seemed almost petrified. Before I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was so much better that I did my own work. Oh, my recommendation six others are taking it. Valuable remedy."—Mrs. Morgan 552 W. Harrison St., Chicago, Ill.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, a discovery of an eminent specialist in heart disease, is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee or sent by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from all opiates or dangerous drugs.

THE SIXTH SENSE.

The face of yesterday is not the same today.
An undefined but diff'rent spell lies in the features' play.
It may be gay or sad, a tint of color more or less,
A sparkle, or a shadow new, the eyes and cheeks express.
A tone not h ard before rings in some dear one's voice,
That brings a sharp prophetic pain, or makes the heart rejoice,
One knows not why. One only feels some hid den cause must be,
In body or in mind, to work the change not all do see.

Some few with intuition's ready power can trace
In man or child these subtle changes of the voice or face.
With this sixth sense, almost divine, can see and hear
The things not manifest to common eye and ear.
Methinks it needs Love's list'ning wait and watchful sight
Faint undertones to interpret and dim sign to read aright.
Love, then, must be this added sense, or sum of all combined,
And love for ev'ry living thing the power to save mankind.

THE MAJOR ESCAPED.

If ever there was a foreordained old bachelor, that man was Major Teller.

He was a dapper, thin little man, something under 5 feet in height, with a glossy black wig, closely trimmed side whiskers, and costume so daintily neat that he reminded you of a shining black cat.

It was high noon on a sparkling windy March day when Major Teller came home to the antique down town boarding house where he had vegetated for the last 20 years and went to his room to brush his wig for the midday meal. Opening the door, he stumbled over an obstacle in the way:

"Oh, I beg your pardon, I'm sure," said the major, turning very red and recovering his footing with difficulty.

It was Miss Patience Pettigrew, on her hands and knees, cleaning off the oilcloth at the door!

Now, the major was afraid of Miss Patience—afraid of her as the plump lamb fears the gaunt wolf or the unoffending robin the dire serpent.

Miss Patience was tall and lean and sallow, but she curled her hair, and wore an artificial rose over her left ear, and sang little whistling tunes to a little spindle legged piano, and firmly believed that if she only waited a little longer she should get married to somebody.

"It's of no consequence, major," said Miss Patience, recovering her piece of soap, which had skirmished out to the middle of the carpet.

"Thank you."

"I do wonder, major," said Miss Patience, with a premonitory giggle, "why you never got married."

The major retired precipitately behind the coal scuttle and made no reply.

"You'd be so much more comfortable, you know," added Miss Patience.

"Dear me, that was a very narrow escape," thought our hero, emerging from his sanctuary. "Some day she'll be too much for me. I'll look for a new place tomorrow."

"Dear me, major, you have no appetite," said Miss Patience sweetly at the dinner table.

"No, ma'am," said the major.

"Don't you know, major, people will say you are in love if you don't eat more?"

"I won't go back to that house if I can help it," thought Major Teller, brushing the cold dew away from his forehead with a crimson handkerchief. "Her intentions are serious; I know they are."

And the major in his innermost mind reviewed the catechism and hymns he had learned as a child, trying to think if there was not some invocation particularly suited to an elderly gentleman in great peril and perplexity.

"It's 20 years since I've been in the inside of a church," thought the penitent old offender. "I wish I had gone a little more regularly. I wonder if it's too late in life to reform."

For the major, poor old gentleman, had a vague idea that "religion" would be a sort of safeguard against the wiles of his fair enemy.

As Major Teller was frantically revolving these things in his mind he came to a sudden and involuntary standstill. There was a crowd gathered in the street—a fallen omnibus horse, or an arrested pickpocket, or some other nucleus.

Now, of all things, Major Teller most dreaded a crowd, and he looked around nervously for some means of escape.

An old fashioned church, with open doors and some sort of service going on inside, caught the major's eye. He made an instantaneous dart for its huge gothic portals, shielded by inner doors of green baize.

The church was very warm, and the light, softened by purple and golden and crimson glass, was dim, and the clergyman's voice rather monotonous, and Major Teller was unconsciously becoming rather drowsy, when a plump old lady came in, and the sexton beckoned him from his seat.

But the sermon was over, and people were streaming down the aisle, and the major felt that he did not care to prolong the thing, and that he had done a very laudable act in coming to church, and—

Even while these ideas were passing indistinctly through his brain he was borne toward the altar in an upward eddy of the crowd and felt a gaunt arm thrust through his.

"Protect me, major!" whispered Miss Patience Pettigrew. "I'm so 'feared in a crowd always."

The major strove to withdraw his arm, but Miss Pettigrew would not let him. They were standing directly in front of the altar arm in arm. The minister, old and near-sighted and a little deaf, advanced, probably concluding that his services were required.

Major Teller's blood ran cold. He tried to protest, but his tongue seemed paralyzed. Miss Pettigrew had captured him as a lamb for the slaughter, and where was the use of further struggle?

A few words—an appallingly brief ceremony—and Major Teller was married to Miss Patience!

"Take the market basket, my dear," said the gaunt bride, "and stay—you'd better carry the umbrella too. We'll go right home. Old folks like you and me don't care for wedding tours, do we?"

The major looked piteously at his better half and made no answer. She, however, waited for none, but drew him along with a quiet determination that argued ill for the future.

"Give me the key to the room, my dear," said Mrs. Pettigrew Teller. "I'd better keep it in future."

The major handed over the key without a word of remonstrance, and his elderly wife opened the door.

"We'll slick up things a little," said Mrs. Teller, bundling the major's beloved papers together and pitching his box of cigars out of the window.

"But, Miss Patience"—

"What!"

"My dear wife, I mean!"

"Ah, yes. What were you about to remark?"

"My cigars—I"—

"Oh, well, I don't like smoke—never did! I wish you'd take all these coats and things out of the wardrobe. I want it for dresses."

"But where shall I keep them, Miss Pa"—

"What did you say?"

"Mrs. Teller, I would remark"—

"Oh, under the bed or somewhere! You must have plenty of money. By the way, suppose you give me the money to keep now, my dear. I'll manage it a great deal more economically than you will be likely to."

"But"—

"Give me the money, I say."

Major Teller meekly put his hand into his pocket and submissively handed over the purse.

The major crept silently away, thinking how, the last time he crossed that threshold, he was a free man, and now:

"I'm married!" mused Major Teller. "I couldn't help it. It wasn't my fault, but here I am, no money, no cigars, no freedom—worse than any galley slave. Sixty years old next month and married to Patience Pettigrew!"

He walked disconsolately down the street, both hands in his empty pockets and his hat tipped recklessly down over his eyes.

He stopped at the street corner, uncertain which way to go. But as he gazed the bright, steely glimmer of the river caught his eye.

"All right," muttered Sempronius moodily. "I'll go and drown myself. It's a short way out of a long lane of difficulty. Anything but going back to—Patience Pettigrew."

"Want a boat, sir?" demanded a sturdy man.

"Yes," said the major; "I want Charon's boat to row me over the Styx."

"Don't know him, sir," said the puzzled boatman, "but mine's sound and light and"—

The major waited to hear no more, but gave a blind downward jump.

Down, down with that peculiar sensation of falling so familiar to us all—down—down—until—

—"Beg pardon, sir, but the church is goin to be shut up, and everybody's gone. Hope you've had a good nap, sir?"

The sexton spoke satirically, but in his tones Major Teller recognized hope and freedom. He started wildly to his feet.

Major Teller satisfied the sexton with a donation whose liberality astonished even that personage and went at once to a hotel to engage rooms.

"I'll send for my things," he thought. "I won't go back to that house. I'm not married, and I don't mean to be married!"

Discretion is the better part of valor—and Miss Patience Pettigrew remains Miss Patience Pettigrew still. But Major Teller goes to church very regularly now!—Exchange.

The Old, Old Man.

A mile or so from the Westbury Half Way House there is a little cluster of red buildings to the north of the highroad. Here, nestled between a modern shooting box and an ancient farmstead, is a small chapel, and within the chapel a memorial plate to Parr: "The old, old, very old man, born in the year of our Lord 1483. He lived in the reign of ten kings and queens of England, died the 13th and was buryed in Westminster abbey on the 15th of November, 1635."

The inscription on brass, in a neat oak frame, of course proves nothing, though it may well date from the middle of the seventeenth century. Its most attractive feature is the neatly engraved head of Parr, which is little at variance with that given in Taylor's pamphlet. It is hard to think this serene faced person, in the conical skullcap, the trim white collar and many buttoned coat, was a farm laborer all his life. His peaked beard is of the kind Vandyke loved to paint, and his mustache runs down into it. The nose is long and straight, and his eyebrows are handsomely arched.

Whether this portrait be a true or an ideal one, it is famously suggestive of a man who "hath not been troubled in mind for either the building or throwing down of abbeys and religious houses," who did never "murmur at the manner of prayers, let them be Latin or English,'" and who "held it safest to be of the religion of the king and queen that were (sic) in being." It is to be hoped indeed he was such a man, else he could not have lived through a more tiresome century and a half of English life.—Macmillan's Magazine.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. is on every wrapper.

THE FIRST LADY OF CALIFORNIA

Mrs. Budd Dislikes Society, but Loves Study, Photography and Politics.

Husband, home and study are the chief interests in life of Mrs. James H. Budd, wife of the Democrat who was recently elected governor of California after a very close and interesting fight. Her husband she very properly considers the greatest man on earth, and she is in thorough sympathy with his political ambition. When he conducted a backboard campaign through his congressional district some years ago and painted "Vote for Budd" all over the district, she was with him, and she was also with him when he went to Washington later. The couple have no children, and Mrs. Budd takes all the care of their small but cozy home in Stockton. The house is a model of comfort and neatness, and there isn't a speck of dust in sight anywhere. As a student she is deeply engrossed in electricity, hygiene and the chemistry of food.

MRS. J. H. BUDD.

Before her marriage to Mr. Budd, over 20 years ago, she was Miss Inez Merrill of Stockton, and the interesting event took place immediately after Mr. Budd's graduation from the University of California. Mrs. Budd is thoroughly posted on parliamentary law, conventions and politics in general, and she is subject to political intuitions that have thus far proved well founded. Long before her husband was endeavoring to secure the gubernatorial nomination she had a presentiment that he would get it, and he got it. She also felt certain that he would be elected, and he did manage to win by a narrow margin.

In personal appearance Mrs. Budd is petite and slender, with big gray eyes, high, intelligent forehead and a mass of brown hair that she does up in the simplest possible way. She has unconventional ideas of dress, and the decollete gowns she saw in Washington shocked her very much. She dresses exactly as she pleases in defiance of the mode, abhors social pomp and limits her calling list to her very intimate friends. She is very fond of amateur photography and life in the woods and is a good shot with rifle and shotgun.

LIKE LONDON'S PEOPLE'S PALACE.

Chicago's Proposed Resort Where the Poor May Be Amused and Benefited.

Chicago philanthropists who are interested in the welfare of the poor are working hard to raise $100,000 for the purpose of erecting a People's palace, resembling the great London affair that Walter Besant has described in his novels. No definite plans for a building have yet been formulated, but the structure will doubtless be erected on the lines of the London People's palace. The building will be at least three stories high, will contain a library, reading room, amusement hall, classrooms, etc., and will probably be erected on the West Side of Chicago. The place will be unsectarian and will be a sort of Young Men's Christian association without the rules and bylaws that have a tendency to keep the rougher element away.

REV. JOHN RUSK.

Rev. Dr. John Rusk of the Fullerton Avenue church is one of the strong partisans of the proposed People's palace. "The palace," he says, "is intended for poor people of both sexes who earn their bread by the sweat of their brows, but who are American enough to resent the insult of rules so common to our so called charitable institutions, rules that place them in the attitude of suspects. Membership will cost but $1 a year, and no entertainment will have an admission fee above 5 cents. At the evening school boys and young men will be taught trades, and girls and women will be instructed in cooking, dressmaking, physical culture and home nursing."

One of the features of the palace will be an amusement hall capable of seating 3,000 persons. Here concerts, amateur theatricals, lectures and readings will be given at the nominal admission fee of 5 cents, which will be charged for the purpose of excluding loafers. The hall will also be used for dances, and Chimmie and his best girl can enjoy terpsichorean delights to their hearts' content without being subjected to the demoralizing effects of drink and questionable company. In the People's palace no drinks stronger than milk will be sold.

Three Families Numbered 87 People.

I. L. Hunt, a member of the New York assembly, says that while campaigning in St. Lawrence county he met three brothers, Canadian Frenchmen, of the name of Moes, who, with their wives and children, had just left Canada for Benson's mines and stopped overnight at a hotel at Russell. The children of the three families numbered 87. It was a little amusing to read on the hotel register: "Mr. Moes, wife and 31 children; Mr. Moes, wife and 27 children; Mr. Moes, wife and 29 children."

TELLING THE TRUTH.

A Well-Known Business Man Testifies for Munyon.

W. D. Lovell, the well-known real estate broker, of 42 N. Alexander street, Rochester, N. Y., says: "My wife was attacked with severe muscular rheumatism, and was finally compelled to take to her bed. I secured a bottle of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure, and after taking six doses she was able to rise and dress herself unassisted. I have also been relieved of sharp, shooting pains after taking a few doses. I consider the cure a marvelous one."

Munyon's Rheumatism Cure is guaranteed to cure rheumatism in any part of the body. Acute or muscular rheumatism can be cured in from one to five days. It speedily cures shooting pains, sciatica, lumbago and all rheumatic pains in the back, hips and loins. It seldom fails to give relief after one or two doses, and almost invariably cures before one bottle has been used.

Munyon's Stomach and Dyspepsia Cure is guaranteed to cure all forms of stomach troubles and indigestion.

Munyon's Homeopathic Home Remedy Company, of Philadelphia, put up specifics for nearly every disease, which are sold by all druggists, mostly for 25 cents a bottle.

GOSHEN, Nov. 28.—Messrs Geo. W. Hulse and I. E. Toland, bonding commissioners of Minisink, reported having issued $70,000 of 3½ per cent. bonds, to redeem a like amount of old bonds issued in aid of the N. Y. and O. Midland Railroad. The bonds are payable at the rate of $3,000 a year for ten years and $4,000 a year thereafter. On motion of Mr. Clark, $4,600, necessary to pay principal and interest during the year, was levied on the town.

The Law Committee reported that the highway taxes returned as unworked amounted to $493.57.

There was levied on Cornwall $2,450.70 for roads and bridges and $2,350 to pay town audits; on Blooming Grove, $1,417.39 to pay town audits. $300 for temporary relief, $500 for roads and bridges.

Messrs. Brown, Denniston and Clark were appointed a committee to apportion $1,440, principal and interest on Quassaic bridge bonds, between Newburgh city and New Windsor, and $5,000 of bonds, due Sept. 1st, 1895.

Newburgh town was authorized to collect $706.50, to pay installments due on road machines.

The Supervisor of Blooming Grove was authorized to add to the tax levy of the town one dollar for every $500 assessment or fraction thereof, to work the highways under the "new money system," as voted by the taxpayers at the last town meeting.

The County Clerk's official bond was fixed at $5,000.

Mr. Adams brought up the matter of insurance on the county buildings. It was now in the hands of the Committee on Buildings. He thought it should be in charge of a special committee. Policies to the amount of $4,300 would soon have to be renewed.

He said there was no insurance on the county building nor on the old Surrogate's building and he believed that they should be insured at once and that all policies and other papers relating to this matter should be in the County Treasurer's safe. On the farm buildings of the county there is an insurance of $31,500; on personal property $12,250; on Orphans' Home real estate, $5 000, personal, $1,600; on Court House, Goshen, $5,000, and Court House, Newburgh, $3,000. Mr. Adams also remarked that in his opinion there was too little insurance on the Orphans' Home building at Middletown. He then moved that a committee of three from the vicinity of Goshen and Middletown, of which the Chair shall be one, be appointed to attend to this matter.

This motion was duly seconded and carried.

Mr. Boyd said he would appoint the committee, later.

Doctors Myers and Evans presented a bill to the county for $50, for "sewing up neck and fracture of Jesse P. House."

Mr. Wood, Chairman of Coroners' Committee, brought this bill to the attention of the Board for instruction and information.

There was some discussion as to the liability of the county in the matter and the Clerk was instructed to request the physicians to appear before the Coroners' Committee and explain the bill.

Mr. House is now an inmate of the insane asylum at Matteawan. He is the peoson who, in February last, killed his brother and then attempted suicide by cutting his throat, near Gardnerville.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Coroners' Committee and the Miscellaneous Committee presented a number of bills which they reported as correct and drafts were ordered drawn.

The pay of assessors for meeting at Newburgh, last August, was, on motion of Mr. Adams, placed at $4 per diem, with mileage.

The Chair appointed Messrs. Thompson, of Wallkill, and Bradley, of Wawayanda, as his associates on the Insurance Committee.

The Board then adjourned until 11 a. m, Wednesday.

AN ERIE FILL ON FIRE.

Coal Dust in a Fill Near Black Rock Cut Smouldering for Six Months.

A number of years ago, the Erie used a quantity of coal dust in making a heavy fill, near Black Rock Cut, three miles this side of Port Jervis. Six months ago this coal dust caught fire and has been smouldering ever since.

Rain having failed to extinguish the fire and there being no signs that it will burn itself out, a force of men has been set at work to dig a deep trench, which it is hoped will cut off the fire and prevent its further spread.

THE RESULT

OF AN AMERICAN WOMAN'S WORK.

Not An Assertion, But a Truth, Proven by the Accumulated Testimony of 20 Years.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

HERE'S a reason for it, when a special remedy for a special disease maintains the first place in the faith of the people for twenty years; when, year after year, the confidence given cautiously at first rolls into a tremendous volume; when one woman's name is known throughout the civilized world; when letters by the thousands come by every mail from all parts of the earth in gratitude and praise; when druggists place this remedy first on the list of standard remedies.

Then there is a reason for it. Lydia E. Pinkham and her wonderful Vegetable Compound, deserve the first place in the hearts of womankind.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured more women from all disease arising from irregularity and derangement of the uterus and womb than any remedy known to medical science.

Are you suffering? then profit by the experience of this thankful woman:—

Dear Mrs. Pinkham,—Last winter I did not think my little ones would have a mother long. I suffered terribly with female troubles.

I could keep nothing on my stomach, and got so "poor" my friends hardly knew me. I suffered with severe headaches, dizziness, faintness, backache, and the blues.

Thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I am now as fat as ever, and have no female troubles

If you use my letter I hope it may be the means of saving some other poor mother's life as it did mine.—MRS. ELLA VAN BUREN, 821 Garden St., Peoria, Ill.

From a Methodist Minister.

CLARKSON, N. Y., Nov. 1892.—"I have used Gilmore's Aromatic Wine in my family, and for a debilitated system there is nothing to equal it in restoring vigor and strength, and for female weakness it stands without a rival. I most heartily recommend it to all who may be suffering from chronic malaria or biliousness."—Rev. E. J. Whitney. All druggists sell Gilmore's Aromatic Wine at $1.00 per bottle
